CASE OF SUICIDE OR MURDER

FRENCH SHEPHERD FOUND DEAD IN HIS CABIN.

Room Indicated a Struggle, But the Man Had Appeared Demented—Letters Were in French.

At an early hour yesterday morning Joseph Escallier, a shepherd, committed suicide or was murdered in a cabin about seven miles east of Huntsville. His throat was cut with a pocket knife and he bled to death on the floor of the cabin. The body was found yesterday morning by J. Jensen, of Huntsville, who called the ranch to bring down a drove of sheep. Jensen brought the body to Huntsville and notified the authorities.

Escallier was in the employ of Meroni Marriot, a Logan sheep man, and was in charge of the latter's sheep ranch. For some time past Escallier had been acting strangely, and a week ago he killed a valuable sheep belonging to Meroni. He cut its throat and a day or two ago killed another. Marriot decided to discontinue the man's services and had sent Jensen to the ranch to take his place and bring down the sheep.

The cabin presented a horrible appearance when Jensen pushed open the door. The body was lying on the floor, and the blood was oozing from the wound. The cabin was in a state of confusion, and the furniture was overturned. Jensen called the sheriff and the police, and they arrived at the scene shortly after noon.

Nothing has been learned as yet regarding Escallier, further than that he came to Ogden about two weeks ago and subsequently went to work for Meroni Marriot at Huntsville. A letter written in French, found on his person, indicates that he has a sister at Ogden. The letter was addressed to "Monsieur Marriot" and was written in French. The letter was found in a pocket of his clothing.
